ContentKeeper Home

Protecting families online.

DATASHEET

ContentKeeper Home offers families robust Internet filtering based on the award-winning, internationally recognized technology of ContentKeeper Web, ensuring effective and reliable Internet filtering tailored for families and home users.

The Internet is a valuable and informative resource for families. However, such a vast resource comes with a number of dangers. For example, children risk exposure to pornography while online, with up to 90% of children aged 8-16 having been exposed to pornography online, many while doing homework. With unrestricted and unmonitored access, children are potentially exposed to harmful material and personal data may be compromised. Malicious content (e.g. viruses) may be inadvertently downloaded via email, blogs, and other apparently harmless Internet facilities. Parents need to be aware of safe Internet use guidelines and ways of protecting their families against these potential risks.
